Wallace Triumphs At Legion Dinner

The Executive Committee of the Upper Peninsula American Legion convention which concluded in Escanaba Sunday had a recommendation for a speaker for next summer's host Legionnaires today — George Wallace, former governor of Alabama.

Wallace, despite the controversy which preceded his visit, was acclaimed a success by Escanaba officials after his five-hour visit to the Upper Peninsula Saturday.

And besides, by next summer, Wallace will probably be a full-fledged presidential candidate.

To Decide Later

Thompson was selected by Legionnaires, who concluded their conference Sunday, as the host for next summer's convention. Kingsford was chosen to host the mid-winter meeting.

The former governor of Alabama, who was introduced as the "first man of Alabama" by Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe at the 47th American Legion banquet Saturday night, indicated several times in interviews and again at a Saturday news conference that he is seriously considering running for president in 1968.

He said he would make a decision late this year or early next year after the platform and candidates make their positions clear, allowing him to determine whether anyone would offer the nation a choice.

"Right now, we see no platform or contenders that would prevent us from being involved in 1968," he said.

The banquet program Saturday night at which Wallace was the main speaker, drew about 425 Legionnaires, wives and interested citizens. Though less than the 600 places set, the response was termed above the normal banquet attendance by one Legion member.

Officials Pleased

Both Donald Guindon, general chairman, and Claude Tobin Jr., a member of the executive committee, were pleased by the reception for Wallace as the boycott movement apparently dwindled.

"He didn't say anything that we would be ashamed of or embarrassed by," said Tobin.

Elmer Olson, commander of the Escanaba Legion post, said he admired Wallace's talk.

"I've heard 1,000 Legion speeches and Wallace's was the best one of all," Olson said. "Everyone who opposed his coming here apologized to me after hearing the speech."

One Legionnaire, who said he had planned on walking out of the Area High School when Wallace got up to speak, said he was glad he stayed. He said when Wallace was finished, he even went up to offer congratulations.

Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Mich.), State Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) and State Senator Thomas Schweigert (R-Petoskey), who participated in the afternoon parade which Wallace missed, were not at the banquet.

Wallace, who arrived by plane from Milwaukee about 4:10 p.m. Saturday, was given heavy police protection throughout his stay in Escanaba.

Two uniformed police officers flanked the former Governor at the speakers table, while plainclothesmen mingled amid the diners and other patrolmen kept watch outside the school. Wallace's plane was also kept under guard at the airport and State Police cruisers were on duty on highways outside Escanaba.

In contrast to the sometimes tumultuous reception Wallace has received at other speaking engagements outside Alabama and other pre-convention controversy, there were no incidents, demonstrations or even pickets, either at the airport, his news conference or at the banquet.

Hard To Speak

"I might say," Wallace quipped, "that it's hard for me to speak to an orderly crowd."

Staying away from the segregationist views which have thrown him into the national spotlight, Wallace keyed his address on "States' Rights" with an attack on the U.S. Supreme Court and the "guidelines" which the court has handed down to state and local governments.

"Today," he said, "there is an attack on local government. The States have lost their right to govern local domestic institutions."

He said his position is that every local mayor or judge is in a better position to decide

Delta Inducts 20 In August

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Selective Service boards will order 2,129 regular registrants and 80 limited service registrants to report for induction into the Army in August.

The August call is the highest since last November when 2,923 men were called and compares with 1,167 ordered to report in July and 1,171 in June.

Michigan Selective Service officials have indicated there will be a gradual rise in draft calls in the later months this year to replace men inducted in 1965 who are completing their two-year tours of duty.

The call will be filled from among single men and men married after Aug. 26, 1965, ages 19 through 25.

Regulations stipulate that local boards select registrants in the sequence of age, with the oldest men under age 26 called first.

Some 7,668 men will be ordered for pre-induction physical examinations in August. Selective Service officials said.

The U.P. draft call:

Alger 4, Baraga 1, Chippewa 11, Delta 20, Dickinson 4, Gogebic 12, Houghton 16, Iron 3, Keweenaw 0, Lapeer 1, Marquette 20, Menominee 3, Ontonagon 2, Schoolcraft 3.

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Ann Pellegrino of Saline, Mich., arrived in Portugal early today and said the war in the Middle East "interfered with my trip and made me change my schedule."

Mrs. Pellegrino is retracing the route taken by Amelia Earhart when she disappeared 20 years ago. Mrs. Pellegrino said she plan to fly on to Barcelona, Spain.

She flew to Lisbon from Dakar via Las Palmas, Canary Islands.

U.S. Puts Price On Pullback By Israelis

Kosygin Blames U.S. For Middle East War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin accused the United States today of inciting and encouraging Israel to war on the Arabs. The U.S. delegation quickly called the charge "entirely false."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin demanded today that Israel withdraw from all occupied areas in the Arab nations so that a climate might be created for peace in the Middle East.

The Soviet leader, addressing a special emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly, accused the United States of encouraging Israel to make war on the Arabs. He warned that renewed conflict in the Middle East could lead to nuclear war.

Kosygin spoke only an hour after President Johnson, in a major policy statement in Washington, called on the United Nations to shun rigid attitudes in the search for Middle East stability.

Attacks U.S. Global Stance

Kosygin attacked U.S. foreign policy in virtually all areas of tension in the world, from Vietnam to Cuba but reserved his fiercest blasts for U.S. and British roles in the drama of Israel's swift victory over the Arabs early this month.

"The aggressor (Israel) is in a state of military intoxication," Kosygin insisted.

Kosygin issued a "categorical demand" that all Israeli forces be withdrawn from the Suez Canal zone and all other occupied territories, so that a climate might be created for establishing peace in the Middle East.

"World Watching"

"Only the withdrawal of Israeli forces from the seized territories may change the situation in favor of detente and the creation of conditions for peace in the Middle East," Kosygin said.

He said the Soviet Union "will undertake all measures within its power both in the United Nations and outside this organization in order to achieve the elimination of the consequences of aggression and promote the establishment of a lasting peace in the region."

He said the world was watching to see whether the United Nations "would be able to give a due rebuff to the aggressor."

The session brought an indirect confrontation of the Soviet leader and President Johnson. Shortly before Kosygin spoke, Johnson appealed to all nations to shun rigid stands in the search for Middle East stability.

Looking solemn, Kosygin walked slowly to the rostrum of the assembly to start a critical phase of this special emergency session. He began by excoriating American policy with regard to Vietnam, Cuba, the Congo and other areas. He said the situation in the Middle East could lead to thermonuclear war.

"No nation wants war," Kosygin said. "Nobody doubts that if a new world war started, it would inevitably be a nuclear one."

The Soviet leader said, "It should be taken into account that the continuing war in this area (Vietnam) is fraught with the terrible danger of escalating into a major military clash between the powers. This is precisely what the present foreign policy of the United States of America is fraught with."

Kosygin raised the U.N. Security Council for achieving a cease-fire in the Middle East, but added it did not discharge its whole responsibility, since Israeli troops still occupy Arab territory.

"As long as Israeli troops continue to occupy territories seized by them and urgent measures are not taken to eliminate the consequences of aggression, a military conflict can flare up at any moment," Kosygin said.

"That is why the Soviet Union took the initiative to convene an urgent meeting of the members of the United Nations General Assembly."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg had been listed to speak before Kosygin but his delegation announced he had "relinquished first place on the speakers' list to the Soviet premier as an act of courtesy." He is to speak Thursday.

Sources in a position to know said Goldberg had been heading the No. 1 slot for Johnson and gave it up when the President seemed to speak in Washington instead.

Officials in Washington anticipated Johnson and Kosygin would meet during the Russian visit but said no time of place has been set. The two leaders have never met.

Kosygin arrived from Moscow with a party of 66 a few hours before the emergency session began Saturday morning. He is living at the Soviet delegation's 12-story apartment house on New York's upper East Side and is expected to stay a week on 10 days. The U.N. assembly will last three weeks.

U.N. Won't Prevail

Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag, arriving Saturday night, said he would meet Kosygin in New York on Friday and would urge the two to meet. He said the most serious Middle Eastern problems relate to Israel's borders, the Arab refugees and free access for Israel to the Gulf of Arabia.

The expressed belief that a solution would not come at the assembly but through direct Arab-Israeli negotiations, through U.N. efforts, particularly in the Security Council, and through "conversations between the great powers."

LBJ Says It's For Discussion In Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson declared today that "certainly troops must be withdrawn" from conquered territory in the war in Middle East but firmly linked the pullback to negotiations of a general Arab-Israeli peace settlement.

In a major statement of U.S. policy, the President dealt with the withdrawal of Israeli forces from captured Arab territory as a matter for negotiation along with the problem of Arab refugees, freedom of passage through international waterways, Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist and a limitation on the Middle East arms race.

"Certainly troops must be withdrawn, but there must also be recognized rights of national life—progress in solving the refugee problem—freedom of innocent maritime passage—limitation of the arms race—and respect for political independence and territorial integrity," Johnson said.

Withdrawal Isn't Peace

The President added that a simple withdrawal of Israeli forces would "not be a prescription for peace but for renewed hostilities," unless accompanied by negotiations for a general peace settlement in the area.

Johnson spoke to a foreign policy conference of educators at the State Department. But his policy statement was set in the context of global debate with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, at a special U.N. General Assembly session in New York an hour or so later.

Johnson, laying down "five great principles of peace" for the Middle East, appealed to the nations there to shun another arms race, abandon "a diet of hate" and strive for a settlement.

"The world is watching," he said, "for the peace of the world is at stake."

Backs Israel's Stand

The President's statement generally appeared to support what is understood here to be an Israeli position on troop withdrawals. That is, any agreement to withdraw Israeli troops from Egypt, Jordan or Syria should be linked to issues of vital interest to Israel, notably Arab recognition.

Johnson for the most part was careful not to name specific countries, but it was clear he was speaking of Egypt when he referred to the closing of the Straits of Tiran—an action announced by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser about two weeks before the fighting started.

"If a single act of folly was more responsible for this explosion, the recent war than any other," Johnson said, "it was the arbitrary and dangerous, announced decision that the Straits of Tiran would be closed."

Pledges U.S. Support

Johnson, saying Israel and Arab states must be the peacemakers, promised U.S. support for peace measures both through the United Nations and through methods.

"I offer assurance to all," the President said, "that the government of the United States will do its part for peace, in every way."

Senate To Act On Dodd Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to pass judgment this week on Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, accused of financial misconduct. Dodd, chief defender, says he is short of the votes needed to block censure.

The vote on the censure resolution proposed by the Senate ethics committee is expected Tuesday or Wednesday.

Sen. R. Clifford Long, D-Iowa, said in New Orleans Saturday he was gaining votes but was far short of the majority needed to defeat the resolution.

Long declined to say how many of the potential 100 votes are lined up for Dodd.

Long was to make a radio speech in defense of Dodd, 69 accused of converting $116,000 in public funds to his own use and knowingly doubling the Senate and House ethics committees' fine for travel expenses on seven trips.

The Senate will vote separately on the two charges.

Dodd spent the weekend preparing his defense. He contended he has never profited from his public office.

Long, Senate ethics committee chairman, said Dodd would be charged with converting public funds to his own use.

Repealers of the outcome, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, however, the Senate must enact a code of ethics this year.

Police Strike Halted

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 4,700-man police force threatened with a court order banning work stoppages and mass-scale suspensions by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh began returning to normal work this today.

But the end of a six-day feud between the city administration over a pay raise was not in sight.

The fight for an average pay hike of $1,665, led by the Detroit Police Officers' Association (DPOA), goes before a State Labor Mediation Board today.

The protest began about eight days ago when officers on the motor traffic patrol began writing fewer tickets than normal and continued with mass-scale sick calls, termed the "blue flu" by officers.

However, Police Commissioner R. H. Gordin said only 41 men called in sick on the morning of Sunday compared with 141 on the same date 24 hours earlier. The sick call list had reached 140 by late Saturday.

Gordin ordered men back to normal eight-hour work shifts Sunday, ending no-further 12-hour shifts ordered to combat the sick call epidemic.

"The response of the men has been highly gratifying," said Gordin, who Saturday had promised to try and get more pay for his men through state or federal aid.

However, Winston Livingston, DPOA attorney, disagreed, saying, "No, I don't feel it's over. I feel it has just begun."

Gordin had moved 42 motor traffic officers to foot patrol after the ticket strike and the sick call campaign followed.

By Sunday, 190 officers had been suspended for various forms of insubordination.

Officers seek to up their present top pay scale of $8,335 annually to $10,000.

Picketing at several police precincts continued Sunday, and one officer, when asked if the picketing would continue today, said, "We'll picket. We couldn't care less what Gordin does."

Hydrogen Bomb Bolsters Mao

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's armed forces newspaper says China's first hydrogen bomb was exploded one month early as a gift to Chairman Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution.

The announcement of the Chinese blast Saturday drew no comment from the Soviet Union and was given only one paragraph in Moscow Sunday papers.

Defense Department officials in Washington said the test has not changed the Pentagon's belief that China will not be able to launch a nuclear attack on the United States for about eight years.

Japanese military experts, however, say the Chinese appear to have a number of bombs ready for testing and in transportable form. The blast was interpreted by some Japanese commentators as an implied threat to Japan, which has no diplomatic relations with Red China.

Nuclear debris from the Chinese test was expected to begin falling on Japan today. Two daily flights of planes are to collect fallout dust in western Japan.

The blast was expected to strengthen Mao's hand in his campaign to oust President Liu Shao-chi and his supporters. The Peking communique announcing the explosion said it "greatly heightens the morale of the revolutionary people, and greatly deflates the arrogance of imperialism, modern revisionism and all reactionaries."

The bomb was reportedly detonated in the border province of Sinkiang, which has been ruled by Wang En-mao, a district military commander who reportedly opposed Mao. At one time Wang was reported to have threatened to blow up the nuclear facilities in the province, but the test explosion apparently means Mao's forces have the area under control.

Cong Repulsed In Night Attack

SAIGON (AP) — A hard-core battalion of some 500 guerrillas left 45 dead on a blacked-out battlefield today after failing to storm the lavacade of a U.S. armored cavalry force.

Attempting to smash into American positions just after midnight, the guerrillas were met by the heaviest guns in the U.S. arsenal—175mm cannon raining 200-pound shells on the attackers.

Military headquarters said eight men of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment were killed and 31 wounded in a savage one-hour battle about 40

Legion Parade Is Hour Of Musical Excitement

Claude Tobin, the Upper Peninsula's master of the march, put together one of his best shows for the Legion when it went on parade Saturday afternoon on Ludington St. in Escanaba.

The march started at Stephenson Ave. and Ludington and moved to 2nd St. and its progress took a little more than an hour of a sunny afternoon and it pleased every one of the estimated 10,000 persons who saw it on Escanaba's widest street.

It was the usual gay mélange of brightly costumed and martially musical drum and bugle corps from the Upper Peninsula's Legion posts, beauty queens in sleek convertibles and state and federal legislators who left their cars to shake hands along the route, Army cannons and pontoon bridge units, clowns, stock and modified racing cars, horsemen, school and municipal bands, a 40 & 8 locomotive, Legion officials, Gold Star mothers, municipal officials, old cars, National Guardsmen.

And to top it and scare the gizzard out of you on its first pass was a Voodoo jet fighter from K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base hedgehopping over Ludington St.

The marchers created many impressions:

Special Snap
That Legionnaires give The Flag a special respect born of their military service and a feeling for all things connected with patriotic defense of the nation that can come only out of experience and not out of the Flag Manual.

That our Legion Posts in the Upper Peninsula should be commended for the long hours of devotion to development of young talent that makes possible the fine performances of the Peninsula's drum and bugle corps. And ditto our high school bands, who are now indistinguishable from municipal bands, except that they're a smidgen younger.

That people really do love a parade and that the Legion serves a public need in providing so many of the colorful units, in arranging the march and in saluting and applauding the performance so that the performers have a great day and the crowd has a highlight of its year of entertainment.

That the pageantry is worth all the work that must be expended to assemble it.

Many Units
Saturday's parade included the City Band, Legion state and U.P. officials, massed colors, Bancroft Dairy minitrain and clowns, massed Rock and Perkins High School bands, companies of the 107th Engineer Battalion, Michigan National Guard; the Northernaires of Menominee, Miss Fun-o-rama, Navy recruiting vehicle, L'Anse Golden Eagles, Ishpeming Blue Notes senior corps and junior corps, Army carriers, Exchange Club float.

Marquette Majesties, Job's Daughters, Escanaba DeMolay and Job's Daughters float, Manistique Girl Drill Corps, Miss Germfask's car (but where was Miss Germfask?), Miss American Legion of Bark River (Judy LeBeau), Munising Silver Echoes, Ironwood Blue Knights, Rep. Charles Varnum of Manistique, Escanaba River Junior American Legion Auxiliary, Tony Revord Post 244 of Plover's 1924 Ford.

The Legionettes of Iron River, an outstanding entry, stock racing cars, the Crystal Falls Crystalaires, National Guard bridge unit and truck crane, Ontonagon Mountaineers, kid-dy pushmobiles, Racine Boy Scouts Drum & Bugle Corps, Army trucks, Gladstone High School Band, Miss U. P. State Fair, (Cherie Maskart of Gladstone), August Mattson Post 71 of Gladstone's float and Mayor Ray Norton of Gladstone, Escanaba Area High School Band, Miss Delta County (Penny Johnson) of the Jaycees, Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerbergh and Delta County Board Chairman Charles Sedenquist, Newberry 40 & 8 Voiture 1453 locomotive and clown band, Delta County riding clubs, the Silver Spurs and Comancheros.

Frank Woodford, State Historian Dies Saturday

DETROIT (AP)—Services for Frank B. Woodford, longtime editorial writer for the Detroit Free Press and a noted Michigan historian, will be held Wednesday in Detroit.

Woodford, 64, died at his home Saturday of a heart attack.

A member of the Free Press editorial staff from 1931 to 1962, and chief editorial writer from 1956 to 1962, Woodford wrote nine books about Michigan history.

One of his books, "Lewis Cass—The Last Jeffersonian," published in 1950, received a resolution of commendation from the Michigan Legislature and a citation from the American Association for State and Local History. The book dealt with Lewis Cass, Michigan's territorial governor.

May Employment Down 1/2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial production and nonfarm employment declined slightly in May although retail sales rose slightly, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

The production level was 155.5 per cent of the 1957-59 base average. This was one half of one per cent below the level in April and on about the same level as May 1966.

The employment declines were concentrated in manufacturing and construction, with manufacturing off 78,000 including 47,000 workers on strike in the tire industry.

Wallace Indicates 3rd Party Plans

Former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama carried his states rights-segregationist pitch for the presidency into Northern Michigan Saturday and strongly indicated that he would be a third party candidate in 1968.

He said he would make a decision about entering Wisconsin's presidential primary by the end of the year and that in the meantime had set up a campaign headquarters so that if the major parties' positions are unacceptable to him "We're ready to run. They've got to have not only an acceptable candidate, but an acceptable platform and none of them have that now. We should know by the end of the year."

He said that his party would probably be called the "Stand Up For America Party."

Thirty newsmen asked Wallace questions at a press conference at the House of Representatives before his appearance as the convention banquet speaker of the Upper Peninsula Association of Legion Posts.

for the south to support a third party candidate and particularly if he were a segregationist.

A. Governor Romney has been hospitable to me and my wife (Lurleen, governor of Alabama) but that doesn't mean he agrees with any political thoughts that I might have.

Q. Should the U.N. Assembly let Israel expand her territory?
A. I have no specific recommendations. The United Nations was always an incompetent organization with almost no successes in keeping the peace any place. Let's see if it can solve this and if it can we'll have a record for the books. I hope the UN shows it can do something for once.

Romney Prospect
Q. What do you see as Romney's prospects for President?
A. I see him as one of the strong contenders.

Q. Do you have support in Michigan?
A. We receive probably as much mail from Michigan as from any state. A great many people are involved—several thousands. I received petitions of support in 1964 and if I run in 1968.

Q. Don't states right infringe on federal authority?
A. Those powers not delegated to the federal government are reserved to the states. They do have rights, or they did until this (supreme) court came along and made it impossible to convict communists or criminals. Sometime we're going to restore the rights of local government.

To Change Laws
Q. Are you trying to dictate schooling?

A. We are concerned with India's caste system? Let us do what's right and forget about what people think.

Q. Were you apprehensive about speaking in Escanaba after the opposition to your appearance that developed here?

A. I was invited, I'm a Legionnaire, and my speech isn't going to embarrass anyone. It's becoming a status symbol to be objected to. Everywhere I go there is controversy. Every organization that I've spoken to has survived.

War Policy
Q. How wide is support for your party?

A. We have received three million pieces of mail in support of this effort.

Q. If you were president what would you do to end our involvement in Vietnam?
A. No one has a panacea. I would show Peking and Hanoi that we are going to back our commitment there. I would order the bearded professors to Vietnam and put the persons raising money for our enemy in prison. I'm hesitant about the joint chiefs of staff. They should de-escalate the war and stop the inflow of material from Russia through China to North Vietnam. We should have hard turkey talks with our allies who are aiding the enemy and with our SEATO allies about their commitments.

A. I'm tired of what people think. Are we concerned with India's caste system? Let us do what's right and forget about what people think.

Q. Were you apprehensive about speaking in Escanaba after the opposition to your appearance that developed here?

A. I was invited, I'm a Legionnaire, and my speech isn't going to embarrass anyone. It's becoming a status symbol to be objected to. Everywhere I go there is controversy. Every organization that I've spoken to has survived.

War Policy
Q. How wide is support for your party?

A. We have received three million pieces of mail in support of this effort.

Q. If you were president what would you do to end our involvement in Vietnam?

A. No one has a panacea. I would show Peking and Hanoi that we are going to back our commitment there. I would order the bearded professors to Vietnam and put the persons raising money for our enemy in prison. I'm hesitant about the joint chiefs of staff. They should de-escalate the war and stop the inflow of material from Russia through China to North Vietnam. We should have hard turkey talks with our allies who are aiding the enemy and with our SEATO allies about their commitments.

The commission's task force on juvenile delinquency said teachers often fail to concentrate on slow learners, prejudice the learning abilities of slum children and make life so uncomfortable for troublemakers they want to drop out.

The school is a central, strategic place in the lives of children and so has the potential to help offset the pressures toward delinquency "but this potential is not now being realized," the task force said.

Key College Future To Building Plans

Bay de Noc Community College is asking the voters of Delta County to authorize a two mill tax levy in a special election next Monday, June 26.

The College Governing Board, in approving the election, reported that one third (33.3) of one mill will be needed for operating the college and 1.65 of the two mills will be used to pay the local share of a new building program.

College operating costs include such items as salaries, utilities and fees, contracts and materials, food service, scholarships and student activities are self-supporting and therefore are not covered by the school's operating budget.

The proposed college building would utilize most of the new millage. About 50 per cent of a $2,000,000 program must be paid for by local taxpayers; matching funds are being sought from the state and federal government for the remaining 50 per cent or about $1,000,000.

Building Necessary

"The Governing Board of Bay de Noc Community College is asking for the two mill figure instead of a smaller amount to save considerable monies in interest rates," said Joseph Heiman, board chairman. "By considering a 10 year bonding period, for example, instead of a 30 year period we will save about $500,000 in interest payments."

College President Richard L. Rinehart said that the new building program is necessary both to accommodate increased student population and to provide a better facility for the college vocational-technical programs.

"Our present building is designed for approximately 300 full time and 200 part time students and we are filled to capacity now, requiring more evening and Saturday classes next year," Rinehart said. "And since the building was originally planned primarily as an academic facility we cannot develop many of the vocational-technical programs needed for area youth."

The new building program is being planned to include a series of buildings, the first being a vocational-technical building. The new facilities will house approximately 500 students by 1975-76 while the present college building will continue to house 300 students.

Tuition Increased

Additional operating funds are being sought so that the College can progress towards accreditation. Early this year the college was informed by the North Central Accreditation Committee that a much more secure financial base must be provided, that additional staff and faculty must be hired to reduce the administrative teaching responsibilities and that the library must be strengthened before accreditation can become a reality.

The college is now making full use of the one mill authorized in 1962 "for any and all purposes." In addition, a tuition increase was made in 1965 and another increase in 1967 for out of district students.

"About 40 per cent of the graduates of Delta County high schools will be able to take advantage of college level work at Bay de Noc Community College in the next five years if the millage election on June 26 is passed," said College President Richard L. Rinehart.

Today the college is serving 28 per cent of the high school graduates from Delta County. "Our present college building is not constructed to serve those students interested in receiving post-high school vocational-technical careers," Rinehart said. "With new buildings we hope to make it possible for 20 per cent of Delta County graduates to enroll in programs leading directly to employment."

All May Vote

The new millage, in general, will provide 25 per cent of operating and 50 per cent of capital expenses for the college. Other funds come from tuition costs and state and federal expenditures.

The taxpayers from throughout Michigan, for example, provide about 40 per cent of the college's operating funds.

"In the original plans proposed for the college it was estimated that a one half mill tax would be sufficient for the first years of operation," Rinehart said. "However, the construction costs per student have increased some 30 per cent and the enrollments from Delta County have increased more rapidly than expected."

Since the community college is a charter institution and has separate laws regarding its elections, all registered voters of Delta County may vote in the June 26 election.

What will this additional millage cost the individual taxpayer of the county? If the homeowner has a house with current sale value of $27,000 and a state equalized tax value of $12,000, for example, his additional tax per year will be $24, the board reported.

A homeowner with a house of $10,000 current sale value and a state equalized tax value of $4,500 would pay an additional $9 per year if the two mills are authorized on June 26, the board added.

Explosion And Fire Destroy Barney Home

MCMILLAN — Fire believed to have started from an oil stove destroyed a dwelling and contents owned by Mrs. Clara Barney, and caused the injury of Frank Kirby, who attempted to put out the blaze.

The loss is estimated at $2,000 and was not insured. Mrs. Barney is now living in Muskegon with a daughter, Miss Ann Barney.

At home was Dan Barney, a son, who left the house for work about one and one-half hours before an explosion was heard at 1 p.m. Saturday by Kirby, a cousin of Dan's, who was in the yard working on a car.

Kirby sought to enter the house and suffered burns and shock. He was treated at Helen Newberry Joy Hospital at Newberry and released.

The Newberry fire department responded to a call but was unable to save the five-room frame dwelling.

Wallace's Mission

The public owes the Legion any thanks that may be due for exposure to George Wallace, the former governor of Alabama who is the de facto governor still during the term of his wife Lurleen.

Wallace accepted quickly the invitation of the convention committee to address the banquet session of the Upper Peninsula Association of Legion Posts and Auxiliary Units in Escanaba on Saturday. The committee was looking for a free attraction with crowd pulling power and they found one in Wallace.

He added no luster to the Legion's fine reputation because he came to preach a policy of "state rights" that in Wallace's Alabama means segregation of Negroes and denial to them of full citizenship. His national reputation led the Delta County Ministerial Association to make a public statement of dismay which was signed by most of its members.

There was a considerable unhappiness created within the Legion by Escanaba's invitation to Wallace to be its keynoter. Some of the Legionnaires absented themselves. So did our representatives in government generally. But there was a large public turnout to hear him and applaud his sallies and unanimous agreement on his philisties. It's a pity they are not devoted to a more worthy cause. Wallace preached American distrust of:

- Our courts.
- Our Democratic and Republican political parties.
- Our national political leaders.
- The United Nations.
- Our military leaders.
- Our allies.
- Our educational leaders.
- Civil rights.
- World opinion.
- Federal authority.
- Our churches' teachings.

He flew here from Alabama at his own expense in a large airliner with a bodyguard and large entourage to convince Northerners that when he announces later for President on a third party ticket that they can support him in full knowledge that he will segregate the Negroes, nullify the federal law on desegregation of public schools, reverse the national trend in law stressing human rights over property rights, set a national course which is motivated solely by self-interest and contemptuous of our role as world leader in morality, and threaten American idealism with a white supremacy police state that would weaken us from within.

The Legion, after a heartening original dismay at Escanaba's invitation to Wallace, finally rationalized that he was a Legionnaire, too, and couldn't be such a bad fellow if Alabama's Negroes voted for his wife.

America has no domestic problem the size of its Negro problem. The only moral solution is to raise the Negroes to entitlement to full citizenship. Wallace knows the depth and difficulty of the problem and he is right when he says that hypocrisy won't solve it. But segregation won't either. No one can apply the Golden Rule to this problem and be a segregationist.

Feel Reds Reneged

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Moscow may have overplayed its hand in the Middle East war.

Instead of increasing its influence, the Soviet Union may show up as a paper tiger. Things don't appear that way now.

Arab countries are taking over American, British and other oil interests. Some have asserted they will not ship oil to the West.

Rock-throwing Arabs have marched on U. S. embassies, consulates or libraries in Lebanon, Syria, Tunisia and Egypt.

The Arabs speak of the Soviet Union as their great protector and friend. Several Arab nations have cut diplomatic relations with the United States.

So it would look as though the Soviet Union were riding high regardless of the turn of the war.

Now comes the reckoning. The Soviet Union supplied the Arabs with arms and promised economic help. It encouraged the Arabs with statements.

But the Israelis are winning. Arabs need planes, tanks, other weapons and military advisers and some sort of Russian action or Russian "volunteers" to stem the tide. The Russians are in no position to deliver.

The Egyptians need food in their crisis. The Russians don't have the food to spare, except in token amounts.

As things already stood before the Egyptian-Israeli war, the Russians, as well as the Red Chinese, were suffering a serious loss of face because of their inability to come effectively to Ho Chi Minh's rescue in Vietnam.

Moscow apparently believed a Middle East crisis—or war—would take some of the heat off Ho in Southeast Asia. It hasn't had a chance to.

Reports in scattered countries around the world indicate that local Communists and other Russian "allies" are beginning to lose faith in the Russians as well as the Red Chinese as "protectors."

Partly, this is because Russia and Red China didn't come through sufficiently in the Congo and other African countries or in Vietnam. Partly, it's because of the weakness exposed in the Moscow-Peking split.

If the Russians are unable or unwilling to protect the Arabs now, their stock as "protectors" will sink to a new low.

The Russians could still pull their dignity out of the fire—with American help—as part of an effective team backing a truce in the Middle East. The Russians won a victory in Arab eyes when the U. S. pressured the Israelis, British and French out of Egypt a decade ago after their drive toward the Suez Canal.

But there may be another repercussion the Russians don't expect. The Arab lands which have cut off their oil sales to the West may find their old customers unwilling to buy as much oil after the war is over.

These customers may have shifted more of their imports to other sources. Arabs badly need the oil income.

If this happens, the Arabs are likely to shout at the West, but in their hearts blame the Russians who led them on.

BARBS

By WALTER C. PARKES

The fellow least likely to stumble is one who is honestly humble.

Police have learned that when two cars collide, two drivers are always to blame—the other one.

Can't We Find This Girl a Safer Home?

ROSS LEWIS, THE MILWAUKEE JOURNAL

First Class Of Jacks Schooled

EAGLE RIVER, Wis.—After two years of research, the Lake States first-on-the-job apprenticeship training program for all-around loggers was launched at the Trees for Tomorrow Camp, here, on June 7. Thirty-five young men reported for the first phase, a three day orientation course. They ranged in age from 17 to 23. Two were from the Upper Peninsula: William Jason of Marquette and Stephen Dollar of Laurium.

Screened from more than 50 applicants, most of the young men had some experience in woods work. The program initiated by Trees for Tomorrow and sponsored by the Wisconsin Woods Industry Study Committee is geared to ease the labor shortage in the production of wood, provide careers for Wisconsin young men with specialized skills as all-around loggers, and to improve the image of the logging industry.

At the Trees for Tomorrow Camp they heard lectures, saw movies, operated a rubber tired skidder, toured several modern logging operations, and watched an exhibition by world champion cross cut saw artists. They also tested their skills with a cross cut and chain saw.

On June 10 they met with the 20 producers who will employ them over a two year period and were officially inducted as trainees under a funding from the Manpower Development and Training Act. Tom Arpin, chief of apprenticeship training, Wisconsin Industrial Commission, outlined provisions of the apprenticeship program to both trainees and producers to whom they were assigned.

On June 12 the trainees reported to the Rhineland Vocational School where, under the direction of Luther Burkett, program coordinator, they began a week of related instruction with emphasis on safety, first aid, tree identification, tree felling, use of the axe and chain saw.

The trainees will start at the minimum wage of at least $1.50 an hour, to be paid by operators to whom they are assigned. They will get a raise of 30c an hour every six months. The operators in turn will be paid $15 per boy per week for instruction in all phases of woods work.

Some of the apprentices will start out immediately on piece work, giving them an opportunity to earn more than the minimum hourly rate. Others will switch to payment on a production basis as soon as their skills develop.

The Family Lawyer

Which House Is Your Castle?

YOUR CASTLE? Three centuries ago, an English judge proclaimed that "a man's house is his castle."

Almost two centuries ago, the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution forbade any "unreasonable search" of a private dwelling.

And today, the safety of a person's house from government intrusion still ranks as one of the most distinctive hallmarks of a free land.

But which "house" is the law talking about?

Obviously it means a house that you own and live in. And it includes a house or apartment that you occupy as a tenant.

Summer cottage? House trailer? Hotel room? All these, too, since they are places of dwelling, ordinarily share the constitutional guarantee of privacy.

The protection may also reach beyond the house itself. Courts have held it to include a householder's adjacent garage and a farmer's nearby barn. In both cases, the courts felt that the constitutional shelter should cover all areas reasonably within the ambit of family life.

Does this mean that the home is a privileged sanctuary for crime? Not at all. A house may indeed be searched under proper circumstances—for example, if the police first obtain a warrant, or are in the process of making a lawful arrest.

For then the search is "reasonable," not forbidden by the constitutional ban. As a United States Supreme Court justice said in upholding rightful searches:

"The framers of the Constitution only intended to restrain the abuse, not abolish the power."

But without such justifying circumstances, a house stands secure against the inroads of officialdom. An English statesman, Sir William Pitt, gave the doctrine its classical expression:

"The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all the force of the Crown. It may be frail; its roof may shake; the wind may blow through it; the storms may enter; the King of England cannot enter; all his forces dare not cross the threshold of the ruined tenement!"

Jim: "How about a week devoted to poor play? We might show mistakes that just should not be made."

Oswald: "A good idea. As a starter let's go back to the old cliché, 'Don't send a boy on a man's errand' and give an example of what happens when you can afford to bluff with a high card but bluff low instead."

Jim: "This play usually is the result of carelessness."

Oswald: "I am inclined to attribute it to mental laziness. The declarer just doesn't bother to think at all."

Jim: "South's jump to four spades was sound. His only problem was to take care of one of his three clubs. He might have worried against a trump or heart lead but West opened the six of clubs. East took his ace and returned the ten. South's queen lost to West's king and West played the jack."

Oswald: "At this point all South had to do was to ruff high, then run off 10 tricks but South ruffed with the seven spot. East overruffed and, since South still had to lose a diamond, he was down one."

Jim: "I suppose that South made the usual complaint about bad luck."

Oswald: "Of course he did. Actually it was bad luck but the man to complain was North. It was his bad luck that his partner did not see that he could ruff with the king or ten and still have enough top trumps to handle any trump break."

A—Bid one heart. If you pass you are likely to find yourself faced with a two or three spade contract at your next turn.

You bid one heart. West bids one spade. Your partner passes and East bids two spades. What do you do now?

The Doctor

Says: First Aid Need

One of the chief hazards in boys who are bleeders or hemophiliacs is painful hemorrhage into the joints. This is especially common before puberty and often leads to deformity. Prompt treatment will save these joints. Compare these two cases:

Roy called out to his parents at 10 p.m. one night that he was bleeding into his right knee. His parents took him to the nearest hospital where they arrived at 10:55. A resident doctor was summoned and he said that plasma would have to be given. It was then 11:25. When all the preparations had been made, the plasma given and the bleeding stopped, it was 12:45 a.m. Roy was admitted to the hospital where he spent the next 10 days thereby missing a week and a half of school.

Joe felt a similar hemorrhage coming on one night after he had gone to bed. His parents, who had been taught how to give plasma at home did so promptly. Ice bags and pressures were applied to the knee and to the injection site. The parents got a good night's sleep and Joe was able to go to school the next morning with less damage to his knee than was suffered by Roy.

The Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago has a hemophilia clinic that encourages this type of home treatment. The only requirement is that the parents notify them every time they give the plasma. Similar clinics in other cities are using this treatment.

A great deal of damage is done by giving pain killers containing aspirin to boys like Joe and Roy when they have these episodes involving their joints. Aspirin not only causes bleeding in the digestive tract—it also increases the bleeding time. This is often a decisive factor in producing deformity. Sodium salicylate, although closely related to aspirin, does not do this.

With modern treatment, including the newer concentrated antihemophilic globulins, no bleeder should develop deformed joints.

Q—Our son, 7, has been having bowel movements that vary in color from almost white to green. Only rarely are they normal. Our doctor doesn't seem to be concerned. What would you advise?

A—If tests show that your son's liver function is normal there is no need to worry. Does your son by any chance eat chalk? Some children do in spite of the fact that it is neither appetizing nor nourishing.

Ann Landers

Dope Accessories Not Against Law

Dear Ann Landers: I have been reading you for years and I thought I had heard everything, but I ran across a news item in the paper today that is more fantastic than anything I have ever read in your column.

Here in Santa Barbara a new place of business has opened. It is called The Psychodelic Shop. They sell accessories for smoking marijuana, pot pipes, "roach" (cigarette papers) and toys to amuse people while on LSD trips. They also offer paintings, jewelry and drawings by young artists and fair-odd phallic sculpture.

The police chief insists he cannot close the shop because there is no law against it. He also said, "We can't shut down a place of business just because some people don't like it."

As a courageous crusader who has always upheld high moral standards, will you please say something about authorities who hide behind the law to permit such an establishment to operate? — SANTA BARBARA CITIZEN

Dear Santa: I can't see that anybody is hiding behind anything. The police chief stated that he is unable to make an arrest because no law has been broken. If the shop sold marijuana or LSD the chief could and would padlock it at once, but selling accessories is not against the law.

Dear Ann Landers: Here is a belated thank you. Three years ago my wife sent for your booklet on alcoholism. She was no drinker but I was. That booklet lay on the dresser for three months and finally one night I decided to read it even though I was not ready to admit I had a drinking problem.

Reading your booklet was the first step toward ending a living hell. I recognized myself in those pages and finally had to admit I was an alcoholic. Here are a few things I don't have to worry about anymore:

- (1) My wife leaving me.
- (2) Excuses for being away from work.
- (3) Excuses for being too "sick" to go places.
- (4) What to say to bill collectors when they come to the house and I can't pay because I am broke.

Michigan Faces Crises In Finances On July 1

By JIM NICHOLS
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP)—When Michigan went on Daylight Saving Time last week, it gave legislators just one hour less to figure out how to finance running the state in the coming 12 months.

They may wish they had that hour back.

With July 1—the start of fiscal 1967-68—less than two weeks away, the period's billion-dollar appropriations bills haven't even started moving through the Legislature.

And the 5½-month battle over how to raise enough money to finance the appropriations still appears far from over.

It would be wise, in the next two weeks, to keep two things in mind:

—Gov. George Romney has vowed not to sign spending bills for the upcoming year until he is assured that new revenue, and not just nuisance taxes, will be available.

No Deficits

—The Michigan Constitution forbids spending state money "except in pursuance of appropriations made by law."

That gives the Legislature two weeks to pass a revenue program acceptable to the governor, probably involving a state income tax, and to complete work on a billion dollars worth of spending bills which most lawmakers saw for the first time today.

Otherwise, some people are saying, state government could come to a screeching halt on July 1.

Even legislators might not get paid.

The most obvious way out of the trap is to pass a revenue-raising tax program. This is called fiscal reform by its advocates, and various colorful names by its enemies.

5 Month Battle

Obvious it may be. Easy it is not.

The Legislature has been tangled in a tax battle since it convened 5½ months ago.

That's where things stand

Zoo Drive

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Zoo begins a $1 million fund raising campaign this week to improve and renovate its facilities. Zoo director Frank G. McInnis says between $15 and $20 million is needed to renovate buildings and bring in more exhibits, as well as to build an education center for research on animal behavior.

now, with the new fiscal year just two short weeks away.

In the House, Republicans and Democrats still appear far apart on taxes. If they should agree, there still would remain the time-consuming chores of negotiating a compromise with the Senate and then sending the compromise to both houses.

Anything, of course, can happen.

But if the state of Michigan owes you any money, it might be wise to try to collect it within the next two weeks. Just in case.

Governor Calls Social Problem Meet On Tuesday

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has called a special conference in Lansing Tuesday to explore new ways of dealing with Michigan's human and social problems.

Theme of the conference, sponsored by the executive office and the State Human Resources Council, will be "innovation in social problem solving and strengthening family life." "Our purpose is to stimulate the major institutions of our state, public and private, to redouble their efforts to find new answers to our growing social problems," the governor said.

Two Arrested In Powers B&E

STEPHENSON — A 18-year-old youth from Gladstone and his 16-year-old companion were being held in Menominee today in connection with a breaking and entering and robbery at 3:10 a.m. (CDT) Sunday morning at the Big R Cafe in Powers.

State Police said William Spaulding will be arraigned before Justice Emil Ewald of Menominee on a charge of breaking and entering. The 16-year-old boy, also from the Gladstone area, will be referred to Probate Court authorities for hearing.

Spaulding and his companion were arrested in Hermansville after an informant in Powers had notified State Police at Stephenson that a breaking and entering was underway at the Big R.

Officers said the informant watched two persons enter the front door of the cafe and leave the same way. He gave troopers the license number of the automobile and the car was located, with the two subjects in it, at Hermansville.

Officers said a sizable amount of cash was taken from the cafe, along with a quantity of silver, some personal checks, fishing licenses, trout stamps and two boxes of candy. A considerable amount of money was taken from each of the subjects and another $123 was found in their car, troopers said.

Owner of the Big R Cafe is Walter (Red) Verhagen.

Larger July 4 Program Planned At Hermansville

HERMANVILLE — Plans for the July 4 celebration at Hermansville are progressing under the direction of the William Anderson Sportsman's Club and the American Legion.

Club President Leonard LaCourse Jr., reported that preliminary plans indicate a larger celebration than last year. Decorations will be put up in the village beginning at 6 p.m. Sunday, July 2. A dance is scheduled Saturday, July 1.

The parade and prizes for it are in charge of Richard Whitens, Ray Gurgall and Richard Cronick of the Legion head the soliciting committee.

It was also reported that perch fishing at Hermansville Lake has been excellent with minnows as best bait. Bullheads are plentiful, but not large. Most northern pike catches have been in the 20-23 inch class. Bluegills caught have indicated a four-year growth.

Lad Frankenberg, district fish biologist at Crystal Falls, reviewed fishing prospects with the club after an inspection of the lake.

what to do about local problems than someone in an office a thousand miles away.

Wallace said one of the great crises facing this country today is the breakdown of law and order. He said when a police officer makes an arrest on Friday night it's not the criminal he is going to continue to rise," he said.

The former governor, whose wife, Lurleen, is now the official chief executive of Alabama, also said that the U.S. forces in Vietnam ought to receive the total commitment of the people of this country and that those "bearded college professors" who go around trying to raise money for the Viet Cong ought to be put in prison as traitors.

Stop Briefly
Wallace said it's about time the country recognizes the difference between free speech and the right of dissent and treason.

Following the banquet, Wallace's party of 29, including press corps and six Alabama state patrolmen he brought along for security, stopped briefly at the Legion's drum and bugle corps competition at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

The competition was won by the Ishpeming Blue Notes, with the Menominee Northernaires finishing second.

DA Fights NBC Show On Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—A spokesman for the National Broadcasting Co.—in the face of objections by New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison—says the network definitely will telecast tonight a program criticizing aspects of Garrison's investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

William R. McAndrew, president of NBC News, also said Sunday the network expected Garrison to demand equal time and the network was "prepared for it."

The program, entitled "The JFK Conspiracy—the Case of Jim Garrison," is scheduled for 8 to 9 p.m. EDT.

Garrison has said the actions of NBC make him believe it has a "calculated objective" of destroying his case against Clay L. Shaw in Garrison's investigation of the assassination.

Garrison has obtained an indictment charging Shaw, a retired New Orleans businessman, with conspiracy to murder in the death of Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

U.S. Plane May Have Hit Vessel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says American planes may have strafed a Soviet ship in North Vietnamese waters earlier this month.

Previously, the department denied the Soviet claim that U.S. planes hit the 3,358-ton Turkistan June 2 in the North Vietnamese port of Cam Pha. The Soviets said one man was killed and another was seriously wounded.

Clay Quips At Draft Trial

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Casius Clay sang, "You Make Me Feel so Good," today as he arrived at the federal courthouse for his trial on a charge of refusing to be inducted into the armed services.

He also prompted laughter when a bailiff asked spectators in a corridor, "Are there any more jurors?"

"I'd like to serve on the jury," Clay said.

Conviction of the 25-year-old fighter could bring a 5-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine.

Clay declined to talk with newsmen as he walked through the lobby.

Hayden Covington of New York City, Clay's chief counsel predicted the trial would end by Tuesday afternoon at the latest. He readied a double defense: that Clay is draft exempt as Black Muslim minister Muhammad Ali, and that Clay and other Negroes are systematically discriminated against by draft boards, which Covington argues are unfairly loaded with whites.

UAW To Elect Scholle Again

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Peppery Gus Scholle, the 63-year-old president of the Michigan AFL-CIO since 1940, is expected to face little opposition this week as he seeks re-election at the labor group's state convention.

Some 1,000 delegates are expected for the four-day event which opened today. A spokesman for the group said "no real battles" were anticipated this year.

Scholle addressed the opening session today as did State Democratic Chairman Zolton Ferency and the Rev. Charles E. Morton of Detroit, a member of the State Board of Education.

Other speakers during the convention include Emil Mazey, international United Auto Workers Union secretary-treasurer on Tuesday, Sen. Coleman Young and Rep. William A. Ryan, both of Detroit, who will discuss the state's financial situation on Wednesday, and Alexander E. Barkan, national director of COPE — Committee on Political Education — for the AFL-CIO who will speak Thursday.

Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Secretary of State James Hare and State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley plan to visit the convention Wednesday.

form, and at every level and at every hour.

Evidently with a view to the Soviet-American confrontation—dramatized by Johnson's and Kossygin's personal declarations—the President referred to his efforts to improve relations with Moscow.

He spoke of cultural exchanges and similar agreements such as space treaty, and urged agreements to block the spread of nuclear weapons and prevent an antiballistic missile arms race.

Common Action

"We have tried to enlarge, and have made great progress in enlarging the arena of common action with the Soviet Union," Johnson said.

His personal appeal for "common action" with Moscow tackling the Middle East problems led into his statement on that crisis area.

It was in this statement that he outlined a set of five principles for a "durable peace" and then dealt specifically with the hottest current issue posed by the Arab states and the Soviets—withdrawal of Israeli troops from conquered territory.

Not By Name

"There are some who have urged, as a single, simple solution, an immediate return to the situation as it was on June 4," Johnson said. "The war started on June 5 and in the next week Israel overran sections of Egypt, Jordan and Syria which it holds under the present ceasefire."

Johnson said that a simple withdrawal of the Israeli forces—though he did not mention Israel by name—would be "not a prescription for peace for renewed hostilities," and added "there must also be recognized rights of national life—progress in solving the refugee problem—freedom of innocent maritime passage—limitation of the arms race—and respect for political independence and territorial integrity."

Johnson also called for aid to Arab refugees and again urged political independence for the Middle East states.

Unions Avert Rail Tieup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of the International Association of Machinists reportedly walked off their jobs in the Southern Pacific Railroad yards at Roseville, Calif., early today.

There were no reports of walkouts elsewhere.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The no-strike period in the dispute between railroads and six shopcraft unions ended early today but the deadline passed without any reported walkout by the brotherhoods.

The unions, after winning a victory on antistrike legislation in the House Thursday, announced they would forego any strike until Congress had a chance to work out a compromise on the bill.

Congressional leaders, rather than trying to hold colleagues in session over the weekend to seek a compromise, relied on the union's pledge that a strike would not take place.

The Senate position is complicated by continuing debate on the censure case against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., which is expected to run until midweek.

Truck Mechanics In Detroit Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Approximately 700 mechanics working in garages of more than 50 Detroit trucking firms went on strike today in support of new contract wage demands. The previous contract expired March 31.

Strikers are members of Lodge 698 of the International Association of Machinists. They walked out on members of the Michigan Cartmen's Association and the Motor Carriers' Association of Michigan and against about 25 independent trucking concerns.

Rotation Helps Build High Morale In Vietnam

Congressman Philip Ruppe, just back from Vietnam, told Legionnaires at their weekend convention in Escanaba that our GIs are "doing a tremendous job in the war and their morale is excellent because: "1. They're on a year's rotation. No one in Vietnam ever talks about how long he's been there; only that he's got 300 days or 80 days to go before he is rotated home. "2. The excellent medical care they are getting," Ruppe told the Legion Auxiliary luncheon at the Sherman Hotel that from the fighting front to field hospitals and base hospitals and back to the United States he found our wounded men all high in praise of our armed services' medical care. "3. The tremendous fire power which we have given our men in Vietnam."

Ruppe said he has asked our high military officials if America is going to have to help with the pacification of Vietnam after a military victory has been won there. There can be no ultimate or lasting victory without pacification of the population, he says.

"Our military thinks that we can do a better job of pacification, (than the Vietnamese) but there are hundreds of square miles of country under water in the Mekong Delta in rice areas and 40 per cent of the population of the country lives there. Who is going to get them and hold them and increase our perimeter of occupation? It is a large job, but we could do it if we had the manpower."

"It is easier to bomb the enemy in North Vietnam than to chase them out of those swamps. I am not in favor of stopping bombing if our military feels that it has strategic targets and it says it has more than a hundred of them to hit."

"Our soldiers in Vietnam wonder why there is so much bitching in the United States; not so much about the draft card burning. They're doing a

Police Protect Jayne's Girl

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — How long Jayne Mansfield's 16-year-old daughter, Jayne Marie, will stay under protective police custody was left today to juvenile authorities.

The girl was taken to the juvenile facility with six other girls Saturday, and was not permitted to have visitors Sunday.

A policewoman, Sgt. Shirley Maxwell, said the Mansfield girl walked into the West Los Angeles police station Saturday and said she had been beaten and whipped with a leather belt by a male friend of her mother.

The actress' attorney, Samuel S. Brody, said police had no right to take young Jayne to Juvenile Hall.

A spokesman for the actress, child psychologist Murray Banks, said Miss Mansfield had been having "a severe disciplinary problem with her daughter" and that the actress had "administered corporal punishment."

Juvenile authorities ordered photographs of her alleged hip and mouth injuries.

Susie Maxwell Jaycee Winner

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Susie Maxwell stood in the flush of victory Sunday after winning the Milwaukee Jaycee Open Golf Tournament and solemnly said she was ready to drop professional golf at the drop of a proposal.

"The tour is nice," said the 25-year-old Oklahoman after pocketing $2,250—the biggest pay check of her pro career. "It's fun. It gives you a chance to travel all over and meet some wonderful people."

"But it's not the most important thing in a girl's life. To me that's getting married and having a family."

Susie, who says she's waiting for her beau in San Francisco to pop the question, climbed to second place on the Ladies Professional Golf Association 1967 earnings list with her five-stroke triumph carved out of rounds of 68, 73 and 75 for an even par 216.

Tied for second place with 221 totals were Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., 73-74-74; Judy Kimball, Sutton, Mass., 72-73-76; Peggy Wilson, Bensall, Calif., 73-72-76, and Judy Torluemke, North Key Largo, Fla., 73-73-75.

Nicklaus Open Champion With New Scoring Record

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — It gave him a final round 65, "I felt like an idiot, standing there with a one-iron in my hand," Jack Nicklaus said. "But I knew what I had to do to win this golf tournament."

The bulky Golden Bear, at age 27 perhaps the best golfer the world has seen, was explaining the final moments of his record-shattering triumph in the United States Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

"I wasn't thinking about records," Nicklaus said over and over. "Records come. They're made to be broken. I just wanted to win this tournament."

He did. And he insists it was entirely incidental—he broke Ben Hogan's 19-year-old Open scoring record of 276 by one stroke with a curling, 23-foot putt on the final hole.

Coach Bob Smith's Powers team vaulted into sole possession of first place in the Waubung League Sunday by edging Manistique, 6-5. In Sunday's other loop contest Schaffer broke into the victory column by nipping Cooks, 10-9, in a 10 inning battle.

The victory was the second straight for the Powers entry and moved the club a half game ahead of the Eskey Cubs who were idle.

Doug Benson pitched and batted Powers to victory. On the mound he fashioned a six hitter and struck out 10 enemy batters. At the plate he drove in the winning run in the last of the ninth to snap a 5-5 deadlock.

Randy Fochesato was safe on an error in the ninth and the stage was set for Benson's winning blow when Bob Mastie stroked a single to put Fochesato into scoring position.

Bob Cowman went the distance on the Manistique mound and scattered 12 hits while whiffing four.

Bob Robinette came through for Schaffer in the 10th inning to climax a spectacular rally that wiped out a 7-0 deficit in the fifth.

Robinette singled and broke for second in an attempted steal. The throw got past the second baseman and rolled into center field. Robinette charged around third and slid home with the winning run.

Terry Lucas waved a big bat for Schaffer, stroking a single, double and homer in three trips to drive in six runs. Dale La-Palm also slammed a homer for the winners.

Jim Butryn started on the Schaffer hill and was relieved after four innings by Terry Murray who went the rest of the way. The two chuckers teamed up for 14 strikeouts and granted 10 hits.

Cooks used four pitchers in the overtime clash. Miller started and was tough through eight innings. Zoin, Neil Hartman and Bob Hartman came on in relief in the final two frames.

Neil Hartman turned in an outstanding game for Cooks, starting on defense and at the plate. Joe Carley swatted a homer in the fourth inning that gave Cooks its temporary 7-0 lead.

Bruce Murray and Chester Salmon worked behind the plate for Schaffer while Swagart handled catching duties for Cooks.

Detroit Slump Continues As Mound Corps Falters

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, reeling under a two-week slump during which they have dropped nine of 11 games, may make some pitching changes to try and straighten out their mound corps.

The Kansas City Athletics beat the Tigers 8-4 behind Jim Hunter Sunday. It was the 10th time in 11 games that a Detroit starting pitcher has failed to pitch nine innings.

Earl Wilson pitched nine innings of the 19-inning 6-5 loss to the A's in the second game of a doubleheader Saturday.

The last complete game was pitched by Joe Sparna June 6 when Detroit swept a twinbill at Kansas City.

But the A's jumped on Sparna for three first-inning runs Sunday, and tagged the strong-armed right-hander with his first loss after six victories.

"We're pressing," said Manager Mayo Smith, who said he planned to start veteran Johnny Podres Tuesday against the California Angels.

"Anytime you get into a losing streak it's a common thing. Our pitching has gone sour and our defense has faltered," he added.

"But when Mickey Lolich gets out of the service and the doubleheaders slacken off, I think our starters will come around."

Smith said Lolich would pitch the first game of tonight's doubleheader against the Angels, with Denny McLain going in the second game. Lolich, on duty with the Air National Guard at Alpena, Mich., will get an overnight pass to play, Smith said.

"Podres will pitch Tuesday," he added, "and if he comes through he just might take somebody's starting job."

But Smith emphasized that Podres was just filling in for the overworked pitching staff because of two doubleheaders in five days, including the 19-inning game.

"I'm not contemplating any changes right now," he said. "But I'm certainly not going to continue with our starters if they continue to be as ineffective as they have been. Naturally, I'll have to try someone else, Podres or Dave Wickersham."

"I don't think anyone has the answer to a slump... the right answer," he said.

Detroit's attack was weakened Sunday with the loss of slugging outfielder Willie Horton, who aggravated an old injury to his left heel in a game at Minnesota last week.

"Horton's heel is a combination of wear and tear from playing every day," said Smith. "But I hope he'll be able to play one game tonight."

Southpaw pitcher Steve Barber of the Baltimore Orioles wears No. 13 on his uniform.

Time Is Running Out On Defending A L Champions

BALTIMORE (AP) — When the Baltimore Orioles won the American League pennant by nine games in 1966 and swept the World Series in four straight, the popular question around Baltimore was: "Have the Orioles started a new baseball dynasty?"

After the first 60 games of the 1967 season, the answer is coming back loud and clear in the form of a resounding "no."

There are still 102 games remaining for the Orioles to pull themselves together for a pennant push, but time is running out on the ifs and maybes surrounding the prolonged slump of the preseason favorites.

When the Orioles began losing early in the season, an official of a team picked to be a contender viewed the slump mostly as a delaying action.

He conceded Baltimore had much the better team, and the slow start would make the race interesting until the Orioles took command.

In other American League games Sunday, Chicago swept two from New York, 7-3 and 4-0, Washington downed Boston 3-2 in 10 innings, Minnesota took Cleveland 4-2, and Kansas City whipped Detroit 8-4.

Every time the Orioles lose a game, their followers have an excuse — the pitching staff has too many sore arms, Boog Powell always starts slowly, the hitters are in a slump, ad infinitum.

After each victory, the cry is, "Here they go!"

But after losing to the California Angels 5-3 Sunday, for their eighth loss in the last 11 games, the Orioles are in seventh place — eight games behind first-place Chicago in the loss column.

Dave McNally, won 13 games last year and was expected to be a pitching mainstay, failed to last Sunday for the 13th time in 14 starts as his record dropped to 3-5 and his earned run average climbed to 5.71. Manager Hank Bauer immediately assigned him to the bullpen.

Jim Palmer, a 15-game winner in 1966, has made only one start in more than a month because of recurring shoulder trouble. But he has never been placed on the disabled list to make room for a healthy hurler.

Brooks Robinson, who hit .295 and drove in 70 runs during the first half of 1966 and then slumped to .236 with 30 RBI over the final half, continues to baffle observers with his year-long slump. He is now at .244 with 23 runs batted in.

Powell has picked up after another slow start, but has only six homers and 31 RBI. He finished last season with 34 homers and 109 RBI.

The team batting average is just a couple points below last season's .258, but the clutch hits are not as frequent. The 1967 Orioles have a poor 7-14 record in one-run games, as compared with 27-23 last year.

"We have to have our spirits lifted," said coach Billy Hunter Sunday. "A winning streak should do it, but how do we get one started?"

The Tigers' defeat, plus the White Sox double victory, put Chicago in front in the American League by 3½ games. The Sox got great pitching from Gary Peters, who won his ninth game in the opener, limiting the Yanks to five hits, and from Tommy John, who shut out the Yanks on six hits in the finale.

Hank Allen's pinch single with two out in the 10th inning gave Washington its triumph. Batting for Mike Epstein, Allen drove in Bob Saverine, who led off with a walk and moved up on Ed Stroud's sacrifice. Carl Yastrzemski tied the game in the ninth with his 16th homer of the season.

Woody Held continued to torment his ex-teammates in Baltimore, driving in two runs in the first inning of the Angels' victory over the Birds. In four games over the weekend, Held knocked in six runs. The Angels have now won 11 of their last 13 games while the Orioles have lost six of seven.

Tony Oliva returned from two days in a hospital bed just long enough to hit a three-run pinch double in the eighth inning of the Twins' game. Oliva, who ran into a fence Friday, got his hit off reliever Steve Bailey after the Twins scored their first run of the game when Harmon Killebrew walked with the bases loaded.
